Reviving the city

The Dhal ni pol festival was celebrated in full glory with the weekend seeing events like kids' heritage walk, music and dance performance, yoga in pols, and a food marathon. The third edition of the week-long initiative aims to restore the local socio-economic system of the city which can said to have been gradually declining. The exhibition, which ends today, displays 60 prints and reprints of old pictures of pol residents and objects typical to their lifestyle as well as pictures from photoshoots conducted by visitors, along with some captured by members of the Brihati foundation, organisers of the event.
